

REA has worked with thousands of men and women looking to redefine their lives and careers in new locations.

For those who prefer a more “do-it-yourself” job search experience, the affordable GLOBAL CAREER ADVANTAGE is available in a blended learning format offering self-directed online career and employment information to assist you and ensure a successful transition to your new location. You will gain access 24/7 to an online portal providing region-specific information such as employers, company profiles, industry data, salary ranges, recruiters, professional and social networking connections and job listings. REA’s online tools provide access to a full range of assessment profiles, guidance in developing self-marketing materials (e.g. CV/resume, bio, personal brochures, portfolio), instructions on networking, effective use of social media, and tips on conducting a successful job search campaign that gets results. You will have access to Hoovers Database of global corporate listings for up to 12 months.

You can also schedule six, 30-minute coaching sessions with a professional REA coach on career and job search topics of your choice.

“REA’s online resources combined with my coaches guidance and expertise helped me with making connections and provided the confidence I needed for a successful job search!”
